VICE PRESIDENTS, AREA OPERATIONS

SUBJECT: Postal Service Federal Credit Unions

We have received inquiries concerning whether Postal Service Federal Credit Union personnel may enter Postal Service facilities for promotional purposes. The following outlines Postal Service policy on this matter:

Installation heads may grant Postal Service Credit Union personnel access to postal facilities in order to provide our employees with information on membership and services. Such contact must be off the workroom floor (e.g., lunchroom) and must not disrupt operations. Employee participation must be either off the clock or during a regularly scheduled break. Installation heads determine whether appropriate space is available and have discretionary authority concerning requests for such access.
